

Stacey Robbins

September 23, 1968 - September 19, 2020

Stacey M. Robbins, 51 of Greenwood, wife of Robert Robbins, died on Saturday, September 19, 2020, at her home.

Born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, she was a daughter of Barbara Ferdorco Cressman and the late Sterling John Cressman. Stacey was a homemaker.

Surviving in addition to her husband and mother of the home are two sons, Garrett Lee and Nicholas Michael Robbins, Sr. (Gina); two sisters, Melissa Parks and Jennifer Newman (Cameron); two grandchildren: Nicholas Michael Robbins, Jr. and Lexie Grace Robbins; four nephews and one niece.

A memorial service will be held at a late date.

Comments

---

“ Sorry for ur loss Jennifer n melissa n barb n ur sisters family

Arrie - September 22 at 10:45 PM

---

“ Mom, you will be truly missed! When you left you took a huge piece of my heart with you! I have enjoyed everything that we have done together all the family get togethers and all the love and laughter and happiness! You will most definately never ever be forgotten! My best friend and the absolute most wonderful grandmother in the whole world you gave ur all even when you didn't feel good. You were a true angel and a blessing! I will see you on the other side. Till then Fly High mom and enjoy your new life in heaven! I love you so much!

Gina Robbins - September 22 at 09:36 PM

---

“ I miss her so much. She was a loving mom aunt and grandma. She was the best and most awesome sister. She love to make others happy when ever and how ever she could. Fly high. You got your wings.

Jennifer - September 22 at 04:08 PM

---

“ She had a heart of gold and always happy. Her laugh and smile were contagious!!! Miss her so much. I know Baba is holding your hand.

joni - September 21 at 07:31 PM